

Ceng 241 Lab Work 2

Classes and Data Abstraction I: simple class implementation

Implement a Book class that represents pertinent information about a book, including the book's title, author, publisher, city, date of publication and price. Write a main() program in which you declare some Books, set their properties and displays the results.